

EDITORIAL

The team at Revista San Gregorio is pleased to welcome you to our 58th edition, a milestone that reflects our ongoing commitment to regularity and excellence in scientific publishing. We take pride in maintaining our presence in renowned databases such as Clarivate Analytics (Emerging Sources Citation Index), Latindex (Methodology 2.0), SciELO-Ecuador, DOAJ, REDIB, Dialnet, among others, ensuring the visibility and impact of our contributions to the scientific field.

This edition is distinguished by the diversity of its contributors, with 48% of authors affiliated with national institutions and 52% from prestigious international universities. Among them, we highlight the Universidad Tecnológica de Pereira, the Universiada de la Amazonía, the Universidad de Cauca, and the Corporación Universitaria Un Minuto de Dios (Colombia); the Universidad Politécnica de Madrid, the Universitat de Valencia, and the Universidad de Córdoba (Spain); the Universidad César Vallejo and the Universidad Científica del Sur (Peru); and the Universidad de La Habana (Cuba). We also recognize the participation of renowned Ecuadorian institutions such as the Universidad Central del Ecuador, the Universidad de Especialidades Espíritu Santo, the Universidad de Cuenca, the Universidad Estatal del Sur de Manabí, the Universidad Técnica de Manabí, and the Universidad San Gregorio de Portoviejo.

With profound gratitude for the support of the academic community, Revista San Gregorio is committed to continuing to be an open platform for presenting research advancements and results, thus contributing to the development of scientific knowledge at local, regional, and international levels. We greatly value your collaboration and trust, and we look forward to continuing to meet the expectations of our academic community.

Editorial Team
Revista San Gregorio