

EDITORIAL

We are pleased to present Issue 65 of the Revista San Gregorio, corresponding to March 2026. This issue reaffirms our commitment to the dissemination of high-quality scientific research, the strengthening of international academic networks, and the generation of relevant knowledge that contributes to the social, educational, and scientific development of our communities.

This edition features the participation of 46 authors, of whom 72% are national researchers (33 authors) and 28% are international contributors (13 authors). These figures reflect a strong articulation between Ecuadorian scientific production and contributions from the international academic community, consolidating the interdisciplinary, plural, and dialogic nature that characterizes our journal.

At the international level, we are honored to include contributions from scholars affiliated with Universidad de Matanzas (Cuba), Universidad Católica de Trujillo (Peru), Universidad Nacional de Tumbes (Peru), Kharkiv National University of Internal Affairs (Ukraine), the National Scientific Center «Hon. Prof. M. S. Bokarius Forensic Science Institute» of the Ministry of Justice of Ukraine, and Instituto Mondelli (Brazil). Their contributions enrich scientific debate and foster the exchange of perspectives across diverse academic and cultural contexts.

At the national level, this issue brings together contributions from researchers affiliated with Universidad Técnica de Manabí, Universidad Ecotec, Universidad Tecnológica Empresarial de Guayaquil, Universidad Laica Eloy Alfaro de Manabí, Universidad Andina Simón Bolívar, Universidad Regional Autónoma de los Andes, Escuela Superior Politécnica Agropecuaria de Manabí, Escuela Superior Politécnica de Chimborazo, Centro de Atención Psicoeducativa Integral of Portoviejo, and our home institution, Universidad San Gregorio de Portoviejo.

Each article included in this issue represents a rigorous research effort, characterized by relevance, innovation, and a strong commitment to social transformation. We extend our gratitude to the authors for trusting Revista San Gregorio as a platform for disseminating their findings, as well as to the reviewers for their valuable contribution to the scientific evaluation process.

We invite our readers to explore the pages of this issue, confident that they will find relevant contributions, interdisciplinary approaches, and critical reflections that will enrich their academic and professional development.

From the editorial team, we renew our commitment to maintaining high-quality standards and to continuing to position Revista San Gregorio as a leading scientific publication both in Ecuador and internationally.
